

There aren't many office buildings in here, are there? . . . Best {B} & Co., that's one we have at home. I don't think it was along that same line.

I like the {SF} clocks – that's one thing I like to see when you're out, when you're running down the street trying to make something . They have quite a few of them, too, around here.

Is MTA the {sign} crosswalks, or the sign of the trains over to here? (Subway) Subway-type? They are quite near here then? . . . (Mention anything you see) I'm just looking really. . . I wish I didn't have this thing on, and then I'd remember more probably.

That's a {B} steamship co. from all over. (Cunnard) That's a brand {misc} new model. . . Do they have anything here that you really want, in the Lines?

Would they ever try to redo the front of these buildings at all? {C} This is a very nice section. You can tell it's an older one but it's still nice. . . . Then the flowers—{NP} what are these? We see so many new ones here. I imagine they're pretty green during the spring. I love the trees; {NP} that's one thing I like in the Gardens. We were here and saw just the tail end of it, and it was pretty. {space}

Arlington {B} Church. That's sure an old one. . . This is one of the {SF} subways to Boston then? You could just walk down one of these and go over.

One thing we don't have are these brick {Pa} sidewalks. Kind of rough, aren't they? {space} Oh, what a narrow street! Do they use that at all? (the street) . . . They have a pretty good street lighting {misc} system, too, don't they? That's one thing; out there they have -- well, it's the best lit city in the world. When we got to New York we were surprised to find such dimly lit streets.

Now that's a nice {B} modern building. That's apartments, isn't it? (Hotel) The Ritz, I've heard of that somewhere.

Newbury St. here. That's {B} attractive. (Church Co.?) Yes. Very nice; I like their displays. (Jewelry) That probably belongs to one of the owners, too. (The Cadillac) {T} . . . That's sure a dingy looking one {space} through there. (Right on the narrow little street) Blocks off the corridor, paint them any way. . . . Now these are sure swank {C} shops here. I like the way they bring them out (on the sidewalk). It gives them a better display, too, I suppose. Are their prices reasonable or are they in the higher bracket? I'm just looking. They go to quite extreme styles there.

I like that church. ({B Emmanuel} ~~Church of the Covenant~~) I like the architecture on that except this doesn't balance off with that. These must be additions; it looks a little newer but similar. Those two ___ on the end aren't the same. Otherwise it would be perfect. Just the design on this first part makes me think it's a new addition on the rest of it.

What is the Berlitz {sign} School? (Languages) Do they teach you how to talk like the Boston people? I had quite a time of it at first.

Now, is this a new front, or just a {B} new-looking {(Arden Blg.)} building? . . . Compared to that across the street, this is sure a lot different. They are {C} older looking or something. Air-conditioned though.

Oh -- toy {B} shops! . . . A nice {B} men's store. . . I notice they dress a lot different here in lots of ways. Little details on the women. . . This is that shop over there? {O} (Bonwit Teller's) Yes. (Used to be Museum of Ntl. Science) Oh, its just the type of building. That's a nice looking building.

I haven't seen any of these iron {SF} railings for a long time, since I was a little girl.

{space} What a mess! Do they have garbage collection over here once a week or something? Boy, what a small alley, and dark. . . . This is the backs {C} of all those nice shops on the other side? . . . This is the fire {SF} escape, eh? . . . Land, I've never seen anything like this! I've never walked by it. . . _____ is awful muddy. Somebody dropped a little sand. I guess it's just that I've never walked through here. . . . {margin: SF} A circular one. (Fire escape) That's something different, but you sure need something on a place like this. . Do they have any elevators in the buildings at all? . . It needs new painting, doesn't it? . . . They were sure solidly put up to last the years. (hammering in background) For that type of work I was thinking they'd sure need a better place, I mean, better lighting or more lighting. Something better for that type of working. You want windows. (For sewing)

Playing a game. . . There are some pretty cute {NP} sparrows. Being a woman, that's what I see first – sparrows. . . . This is nice display, too. (Neal's)of California now, see -- East-West coast. Oh, gee, those are beautiful things! {B}

(going across street) It's like taking your {T} life in your hands. . . . Ah, we made it. There isn't a swimming pool {misc} out in there, is there? (Pond; water in there usually; famous Swan boats) Oh, yes. . . Oh, this is beautiful. I bet it was pretty when the foliage was changing. . . This is a nice spot. You need something like this. Oh, and it has a {SF} bridge over there, I can see. (Pretty when there is water) Yes, I was just thinking that. It's a beautiful sight. . . . What is the gold {B} building over there? (State House) . . Are these oak trees {NP} here, or part maple? Oh, I see {margin: sign} one of the signs over there. That would be a good deal, because often you look at a tree and wonder, "What was that?". I looks strange to see the fancy building with {B} the old one beside of it. . . Oh, what is that? (John Hancock bldg.) Gee! Was that designed after the Empire State? I mean, it has a general look of it. Boy, that's a dandy one.

Stratfield, is that it. {B} . {sign} Statler. That's quite a deal too. That's a big place. . . . What statue is that over there, do you know? (G. Washington)
