Photos of Cartoons Mailed: Templets

General Information: Immense building of early Christian type with Italian Renaissance (early) details. 12 double windows 22" wide by 7½' with vents now in place (outside glass). Make section 22 x 30' to show him. Architects to send sizes. Aisle windows in rich color - one medallion. Christian forms of the Cross only to be used. Windows should be very rich in color but not vary many pieces of glass.

For addresses of those to be notified as window progresses, see other side.
Extract from Mr. Connick's Letter, August 16, 1922.

"I should not try to make many variations in the aisle window designs, but the color may be varied to advantage, as Troto suggests.

I am more and more enamored of cool color, and I should lean that way in all of them with plenty of brilliant warm accents."

Drawing

Troto says no variations were made anyway, so all is well.

I thought this would be the logical order for your pictures, starting with the First station and following the Way of the Cross.
