General Information The Chancel Window, in a full color composition with a representation of the Christ in the central opening, and probably St. Mary and St. John the Evangelist in the side openings. Photos of Edwards Memorial, Beverly Farms; and upper portion of the central lancets of the Great East Window in the Princeton University Chapel, offer suggestions for the general treatment.

See full description in our letter of July 11, 1929.
July 15, Mr. Aldred said, "The designs show a shade of red that I should not care for but I presume in the glass the tone will be much deeper."

For addresses of those to be notified as window progresses, see other side.
