General Information: Tower windows broken — see what can be done there.

Report of Saturday, 29, 1934. Found big holes in two windows in the tower. One lower inside — other in the large window high up. This large window, around forty feet from the floor, has eight main lancets in two tiers with considerable tracery above. The lancets are about two feet wide and around twelve feet high, in quarries of four and one-fourth by seven. It is thought that glass can be taken from the opposite window, which is boarded up, to repair the hole. Then there are four lancets in the front, and four in the back in pairs. Each is about two feet wide by sixteen feet high. This marks a total of somewhere around 450 square feet.

Told Phillips that if they would put up the scaffolding with necessary footings to reach the outside of the windows, we would undertake to repair * the glass and put in the essential Tees and bars for between three hundred and five hundred dollars.

There is also a window broken out in the lower part of the tower in the vestibule. This should probably be repaired at the same time, and included in our total price.
