General Information: Marine Antiques with a painted and fired texture.

Simple rectangular design, following the spirit of the other temporary windows in the Cathedral which we have made.

Not to have too much light.

We sent samples of 2 seedy Marine Antiques. These are pretty light, but we are to paint and fire this with simple textures to hold down the light. Perhaps use wide borders of the amber Tudor with lighter centers of these Marine Antiques.

For addresses of those to be notified as window progresses, see other side.
We are sending you the plan we have worked out for the lantern windows at the Cathedral.

We have in mind trying to use the number 12 amber Tudor glass in the borders with marine antiques, painted to match, through the fields.
