

As planned, we represented kneeling angels of Praise and Prayer, who take their places very nicely in the composition.

We have suggested the modest violet as the border and tracery motif, and have left room for a one-line inscription.

We think it will work out beautifully in the actual glass to complement and harmonize with the other windows.