Vestibule Window -

As planned, it symbolizes the Transfiguration with the radiant figure of Our Lord in the attitude of welcome, accompanied by Moses and Elias. Below, is the text, - "The Lord is in His holy Temple, let all the earth keep silence before Him.

The figures are framed in decorative architectural canopy similar in character to the other windows. ...In the actual glass, we can well make a little more of this canopy, both at the top and bottom, more like we did in the window devoted to Jesus in the Home of Martha and Mary, - the Robinson Memorial.

The Rector writes: "...One suggestion - doubtless it will be corrected in the glass itself; that is, it appears, because of the cloak-like garment on Christ, that His elbows are both pressed against His middle, making it a bit awkward." (Be sure to see that the elbows are now bowed in an awkward manner.)
