General Information: This to be a Service Window ... a memorial to the men who were in the service of our country.

This window would be devoted to Bartholomew, Philip and Jude, with the text in the base of the central panel, "the battle done."

See the photograph of window in place, with text in place and also the sketch for the one we are doing, which goes next to this one.

Floor plan on 3692.

*include the Archangels Michael, Captain of the Hosts of Heaven, and Gabriel, Messenger of Peace, in the two upper quatrefoils; and the insignia of the four branches of the Armed Services in very minor positions in the lower part of the window.
Note: When we make the design for the last window, probably include St. Matthias - this in the window balancing Mrs. Danforth's, where there are more figures than in the two intermediate ones.

Saint Philip at the center carries the basket of bread, recalling his remark when Our Lord fed the multitude, and Saint Jude holds the ship, symbol of his missionary journeys.

In the traceried quatrefoils are the archangels, Michael and Gabriel, - Michael, Captain of the Hosts of Heaven with the flaming sword and scales, and Gabriel, messenger of peace and glad tidings, with the lily of purity.

We have indicated the insignia of the armed services in the foliated fields at the base of the outer panels, - the army, navy, coast guard, and the marines.

At the base, the significant verse, - "The battle done".
