Saint Luke in one window

Christ "in some healing posture" in the other

We are sending rough color sketches with Saint Luke and Our Lord in medallions, set in light fields, with color borders, also light to admit an abundance of illumination.

Saint Luke is represented as the beloved physician bearing the caduceus, a jar of ointment and bandage, while Our Lord is shown as the healer. The leper, with staff and ball in warning of his approach, kneels at the feet of Our Lord. Any of the other miracles of healing could be equally well represented, or the title could simply be Christ the Healer.
