SILVER CELEBRATION

Ladies of the Silver Club will hold their spring meeting on May 13 in the Faculty Club. Cocktails will be served in the Schell Room before dinner, and entertainment afterward will be "Dorothy and Her Hats."

Retiring as SC chairman is Marion Hoxie (Aero & Astro). Margaret Barrett (Chem. Eng.) will be the new chairman, with co-chairman Ellen Gavin (Dean Harrison's office).

An honored guest of the evening will be new member Katharine Hall (Physical Plant), who has been matron for the Sloan Building since it opened in 1952. Before that she worked for thirteen years in the main buildings. She was born near Belfast, Ireland; now lives in Cambridge, has seven children and 32 grandchildren. She's known to everyone as Katie and has quite a collection of gifts, many from Ireland, brought to her over the years from her host of friends throughout Bldg. 52.

The Silver Club is a social group open only to women with long-standing service to the Institute. It began in 1942 when a dozen ladies held a theatre party (they saw Ethel Barrymore); was formally named in 1946 when it had nineteen members. Since then it has grown to include 71 members who have been here for 25 years or more and nine associates -- twenty year members.

LOWELL INSTITUTE GRADUATION

Sixtieth graduation exercises of the Lowell Institute School will be held May 21 at 8:30 p.m. in Kresge, and the public is invited. The director, Dr. F. L. Foster, will preside, and the graduation speaker will be Walter F. Skillin (LIS '27), president and director of the Union Manufacturing Company in New Britain, Conn. Congratulations from the MIT community will be given by Vincent A. Fulmer, vice president and secretary of the Institute;

FASSETT AWARD

A new prize was presented during the annual Awards Convocation this year. The Frederick Gardiner Fassett, Jr., Award for "spirit, dedication and service" was given by Interfraternity Conference -- said former chairman Jack Downie -- to honor "the man who over the years has provided us with the kind of inspiration and example which expresses these qualities."

Dean of Residence Fassett received the permanent plaque and an engraved replica went to recipient Lansing Hatfield '64, who organized the IFC Blood Drive last fall for the New England Hemophilia Association.

FOREIGN GUESTS FOR SUMMER

To visit MIT this summer are foreign college students who will work in Greater Boston industrial, engineering and scientific firms. Thomas Harrington (Student Placement) is advisor to the exchange programs which sponsor these students. Needed now -- to give them a deeper view of the U. S. -- are families who would like to have the students live with them for the summer, or just join them for a weekend, or a party. The Student Placement Bureau would also like to hear from MIT students who will be here this summer and would enjoy meeting the visitors. Please call Susan Hall, Ext. 733, if you are interested.

DINNER FOR JACK WOOD

On Monday, May 18, there will be an MIT get-together in honor of Jack Wood, who is retiring in June after 29 years as sailing master. Prof. Alan Lazarus, sailing advisor, is chairman of the dinner committee, composed of representatives from the Nautical and Athletic Associations, faculty and alumni.

A social hour will be held at 6 p.m. before dinner in the Faculty Club. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Draper, Ext. 4291.

TOP OF THE GREEN

Hoisted up to the eighteenth floor of the Green Building recently was a thousand-pound package containing the Department of Meteorology's radar console (see photo at right).

The console went in through a window frame still without glass and will serve as control station and panel for viewing oscilloscope pictures.

Spearbearers

SUPERMEN

When the Metropolitan Opera produced "Aida" during its week in Boston, several MIT faces appeared on stage. Among the unsung actors: Bob Weatherall (Exec. Officer of the Graduate School), Prof. William Heiser (Mech. Eng.), Prof. Gordon Oates (Aero. & Astro.), grad student Mal Jones and Joe Hollweg '64, all spearbearers in the Egyptian army.

Met supernumeraries are enlisted here through the New England Conservatory which sent a poster to the MIT Music Library. One dollar per show is paid the extras ($2 for all four acts), plus a chance to see the opera backstage.

PLAYERS SPRING PRODUCTION

"Judith" by Jean Giraudoux will be produced by the CommunityPlayers this month in Kresge Little Theatre. Performances will be on May 14, 15, 16 and 21, 22, 23 at 8:30 p.m. All tickets are $1.50 and can be reserved at Ext. 2910.

MIT members of the cast are Abraham Szoke (Physics), Frank Weinstein and David Carey (Lincoln), Ray Parks (Instrumentation) and Eric Fiedler from Choral Society and Richard Randall '65 of the Glee Club. Production manager is Betty Campbell (RLE); Sue Rosenbaum (RLE) is assisting with light design and Paul Smith (Lincoln) is in charge of set construction. House manager is Margot O'Brien (Aeroelastic Res. Lab.), Fred Yarnell (Chem.) ticket chairman, and Joan Ginn (Instrumentation) publicity manager.

HEARD BUT NOT SEEN

Three New York editors of "International Science and Technology" Magazine have asked MIT security officers to conduct a search. Object: a lost audio tape.

On April 23, the editors had dinner at the Smith House with five British scientists to get their views on what England is calling the "brain drain." When the session was over (shortly after 11 p.m.), the tape recording of their discussion -- with mikes and other equipment -- was left in a box on a lobby table. The box disappeared. Its only marking was "Xerox Copy Paper."

The tape was to be transcribed and edited for an article and the editors offer a reward of $50 for its return; no questions asked.

(FLASH -- As Tech Talk went to press, word came that the audio tape had been returned in a plain brown envelope. End of the mystery; no questions asked.)

Wernher Von Braun (right), German-born scientist who directs the U.S. space agency's rocket center at Huntsville, Ala., visited MIT's Instrumentation Laboratory (April 29) to look at the guidance system three APOLLO astronauts will use to reach the moon and return. At left is Milton B. Trageser, who heads Lab APOLLO work. Dr. Von Braun, in charge of APOLLO rocket development, was in Boston for the 4th International Conference on the Peaceful Uses of Space.
