MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

June 12, 1969

It was a time for greeting old friends, like Ester Olson of Physical Plant and Ralph Jackman, formerly of Graphic Arts...

...and sharing reminiscences with "Tuck" Tucker, Ward Evis and Vern Johnson, all of Physical Plant.

GALA FIRST

It was the sort of occasion when a frequent comment was "Why didn't we do this before?" A good question, for it was the very first time the Silver and Quarter Century Clubs have gotten together, and the party was a smashing success. Nearly 150 of the senior members of the community gathered last week at the Faculty Club for cocktails and dinner, contributed by anonymous "Friends of MIT." Entertainment included a slide show and songs by the Logarithms, with dancing to music provided by Professors Lamson and Rohsenow and their combo. Retired members of the two clubs and members of the Institute administration were special guests at the party.

Advance preparations include signing diplomas, being done here by John J. Wilson, Secretary of the Corporation, with the help of Elsa Naber...

...and making sure that the MIT seal is well polished, a job for Arthur McLeish of Physical Plant's paint shop.

ACADEMIC SPLENDOR

When John Corley lifts his baton to begin the Commencement processional on Friday morning, he will also signal the culmination of the school year. Though the ceremony lasts only two and a half hours, months of preparation have gone into it to make sure it will be a memorable occasion for the new graduates and their families.

That commencement runs smoothly is the result of thousands of hours of effort put forth by hundreds of people, mainly Physical Plant and the Commencement Committee. The master plan for the occasion, known to those who live by it as the "Commencement Bible," has evolved over nearly twenty years into a 200-item checklist of what must be done when. Refined annually by Miles Cowen, superintendent of building services, it contains specific instructions on everything from placement of television cameras to ringing the Chapel bell.

The final result is a spectacle which fully justifies the work that has gone into it. There will be a couple of new features this year. The Chief Marshal, Cecil Green, president of the Alumni Association, will wear a new robe, decorated with a simple device reminiscent of the MIT seal. And there will be an especially proud family watching William Grossman receive his S.B. degree. They and the rest of the audience will have just heard the premiere performance of his "Festive Prelude," written for Commencement 1969.

HERE AND THERE

Friends of Fred Fennerty, Nica Needham and Ruth Campbell are invited to a reception and dinner in their honor on June 19. Sponsored by the Purchasing Office, festivities will begin at the Faculty Club at 5:30. If you would like to make reservations to attend, please call Mrs. Campbell at Ext. 7244.

The Varsity Lightweight Crew is making progress in its campaign to raise enough money to go to England to row in the Henley Regatta. By now the team has approximately half the amount it must raise, but plans for the trip are definite. The crew hopes to complete its fund raising campaign by Alumni Day and is very grateful for many generous contributions it has received from the community.

Dean William F. Pounds of the Sloan School of Management introduced members of the Review Panel on Special Laboratories and presented the panel's first report at a press conference last week. Copies of the report were circulated to all employees of Lincoln and Instrumentation. To insure wide distribution within the Institute itself, additional copies are available for anyone who would like one in the Office of Public Relations, Room 5-105.

SAILORETTES' REGATTA

There'll be action on the Charles beginning Thursday --and probably a good throng of riverside spectators, too, as MIT hosts the third National Women's Intercollegiate Sailing Championship. Visiting sailors include teams from Drexel Institute of Technology, Georgetown, Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Skidmore, Tulane, Wilson College and Radcliffe, the defending champion.

Round-robin racing with 18 races scheduled for each day will fill Friday and Saturday. Special events have been arranged to entertain the girls during the evenings, including a splash party in the pool, a night on the town and the Awards Banquet on Saturday night at the Pierce Boathouse.

Members of the MIT team are Captain Carole Bertozzi, '70, Kathy Jones, '71, Barbara Lamond, '71, Janet Mertz, '71 and Bambi Moore, '72. They are looking forward to the races optimistically, having captured first place in the New England championships just last month.

TENNIS LESSONS

The Athletic Department is once again offering the popular tennis Lessons, taught this year by Kirk Randall, freshman tennis coach. Eight-lesson group sessions for beginners and intermediates have just begun, but if space is available, make-up sessions may be scheduled. A second series, on Mondays and Wednesdays for beginners and Tuesdays and Thursdays for intermediates, is scheduled to begin on July 7 and 8 respectively. Classes are held on the duPont Tennis Courts beginning at 4:15, 5:15, 6:15 and 7:15. Enrollment is limited to 12 per class for beginners, and eight for intermediates. Private lessons also are offered at $4 per half hour, or $35 for a series of ten lessons.

The tennis lessons are open to everyone in the community, including family members of employees. Requirements are an Athletic Card, tennis shoes, a racket and a new can of tennis balls. The fee for group lessons is $10. Applications will be received on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration forms are available from the Athletic Office, and experience has shown that these popular classes fill up rapidly.
