General Information Possibly having a figure in the center of Pilgrim - dressed as a pilgrim with script and staff, and waterbottle; all to be symbolical. Christiania and Greatheart to the left? Somewhere in the composition, Mrs. Clark thought it would be nice to have the four girls: Discretion, Piety, Charity and Prudence. Perhaps Christiania and her boys could be used. Two medallions under side figures - one under center. Pease will look up the characteristic incidents in the first and second part of Pilgrim's Progress. Second part mentions Christiania. Window to be designed to take in both parts. The Pilgrim is characterized in the first part and Greatheart and Christiania come in the second part. Christian is only casually mentioned in first part.

The window is to be a memorial to Dr. Francis E. Clark - Founder of the Christian Endeavor.
