General Information ~~Must still deal with sentiment for two center windows.~~

C.J.C. says, "My idea is characters from Shakespeare, - probably young men and young women, not to interfere with the big window.

Note sent with the sketches, April 2, 1931 -
"The bay window in Mary's Room is given over entirely to the leading characters of the four plays of Shakespeare - "As you like it" - The Merchant of Venice", "Much Adu about Nothing", and "Mid Summer Night's Dream".

For addresses of those to be notified as window progresses, see other side.
