Dr. Higgins wrote: "I assume that the north clerestory windows will have relatively more warmer colors than the south clerestories."

April 30, 1953. O.E.S. reported - "Peter is still the warmest window, and we should keep to that, and even warmer on the opposite side."

We have now completed the rough color sketch for the Abraham window and are sending it to you at once.

He is represented at the center holding the brazier of coals for the kindling of the sacrificial fire. Other traditional symbols are represented at either side. ~~The pieces of wood forming a cross~~ and the sacrificial knife.

This window has been kept warm in general tone and will be painted lightly for its northern exposure.
