General Information IMPORTANT: Some of this glass may be cut in advance.

This is the last of the group, and will balance the one we are now making devoted to Saints Mark and Luke. You will recall that this and the opposite window will be the lightest of the group, which were to gradually lighten as they proceeded toward the entrance.

This window to be devoted to Saint Catherine and Saint Anastasia, the two remaining women saints mentioned in the Litany of the Saints.

(These are Saint Catherine of Alexandria and Saint Anastasia, 4th century martyr - who is honored by the first mass on Christmas Day - that is, the Dawn Mass.)

Saint Catherine, crowned as Queen, holds the book recalling her learning. The traditional wheel of her martyrdom is suggested below.

Saint Anastasia holds a model of the Basilica dedicated to her, - in early times one of the most prominent in Rome. Below are the martyr's crown and palm.

Although the sketch is very rough, it will, of course, be carried out in careful detail, as are the other windows. We shall appreciate it if you will please have it returned when you are entirely through with it.
