General Information

We have closely followed the design you especially liked and it has worked out beautifully in brilliant color and light, with the blessing Christ at the center, and the approaching children at either side, above the Dove of the Holy Spirit with down its rays of Divine blessing.
At the base of the central panel is the significant text on a form suggesting an open book. "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of God". (S. Luke 18 - 16)

Rev. Vruwink, "I felt that the posture of the boys could be somewhat more joyful, and as I remember it was in the other window."

O.E.S. " We ~~will~~ will be sure that the children do present a joyful aspect."
